(b) In any case not otherwise provided for.

1. That a petition has been received by the council of the appealing municipality, as provided by section 3, from the majority of the owners within the area described in the petition, praying for the enlargement by the appealing municipality of any part of the drainage work lying within its limits, and thence to an outlet, and that the council is of opinion that such enlargement is desirable to afford drainage facilities for the area described in the petition;

2. That such appealing municipality objects to paying over its proportion of the cost of the work to the treasurer of the initiating municipality;
3. That the initiating municipality should not be permitted to do the work within the limits of the appealing municipality;

Amendment of by-law which provides more than sufficient funds and distribution of surplus.

(2) The issue of such license shall not affect any prosecution or other proceeding then pending, and nothing in section 166 shall relieve any brewer or distiller from any penalty or punishment which may be imposed summarily under Part I, nor shall the imposition of any such penalty or punishment relieve any brewer or distiller from liability under the provisions of this Part. 62 V. 6. PUBLIC MORALS.

Chapter 246 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1897, known as "An Act to Prevent the Profanation of the Lord's Day, is omitted from the present Revision.

In Attorney-General for Ontario v. The Hamilton Street Railway Company and others, [1903] A. C. 524.—it was Held that "An Act to prevent the Profanation of the Lord's Day" (Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1897, c. 246) treated as a whole is ultra vires of the Ontario Legislature. The criminal law in its widest sense is reserved by s. 91, sub-s. 27 of the British North America Act, 1867, for the exclusive authority of the Dominion Parliament; and an infraction of the above Act is an offence against criminal law.

Chapter 104 of the Consolidated Statutes for Upper Canada, An Act to Prevent the Profanation of the Lord's Day in Upper Canada, which was embodied in the subsequent revisions, Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1877, chapter 189, Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1887, chapter 203, and Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1897, chap. 246, is as follows:—

Whereas it is expedient to enact a law against the profanation of the Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday, which day ought to be duly observed and kept holy: Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Assembly of Canada, enacts as follows:

1. It is not lawful for any merchant, tradesman, artificer, mechanic, workman, labourer or other person whatsoever, on the Lord's Day to sell or publicly show forth, or expose, or offer for sale, or to purchase any goods, chattels, or other personal property, or any real estate whatsoever, or to do or exercise any worldly labour, business or work of his ordinary calling (conveying travellers or Her Majesty's mail, by land or by water, selling drugs and medicines and other works of necessity, and works of charity, only excepted). 8 V. c. 45, s. 1.

2. It is not lawful for any person on that day to hold, convene, or to attend any public political meeting, or to tipple, or to allow or permit tippling in any inn, tavern, grocery or house of public entertainment, or to revel, or publicly exhibit himself in a state of intoxication, or to brawl or use profane language in the public streets or open air, so as to create any riot or disturbance, or annoyance to Her Majesty's peaceable subjects.

3. It is not lawful on that day to play at skittles, ball, foot-ball, racket, or any other noisy game, or to gamble with dice or otherwise, or to run races on foot, or on horseback, or in carriages, or in vehicles of any sort. 8 V. c. 45, s. 2.

4. Except in defence of his property, from any wolf or other ravenous beast or a bird of prey, it is not lawful for any person on that day to go out hunting or shooting, or in quest of, or to take, kill or destroy, any deer or other game, or any wild animal, or any wild fowl or bird, or to use any dog, gun, rifle or other engine, net or trap, for the above mentioned purpose. 8 V. c. 45, s. 1.

5. It is not lawful for any person on that day to go out fishing or to take, kill or destroy any fish, or to use any gun, fishing rod, net or other engine for that purpose. 8 V. c. 45, s. 1.

6. It is not lawful for any person on that day to bathe in any exposed situation i. e. any water within the limits of any incorporated city or town, or within view of any place of public worship, or private residence. 8 V. c. 45, s. 1.

7. Any person convicted before a Justice of the Peace of any act hereinbefore declared not to be lawful, upon the oath or affirmation of one or more than one creditable witness, or upon view had of the offence by the said justice himself, shall, for every such offence, be fined in a sum not exceeding forty dollars, nor less than one dollar, together with the costs and charges attending the proceedings and conviction. 8 V. c. 45, s. 3.

8. All sales and purchases, and all contracts and agreements for sale or purchase, of any real or personal property whatsoever, made by any person or persons on the Lord's Day shall be null and void. 8 V. c. 45, s. 2.

9. When any person has been charged upon oath or otherwise, in writing, before any Justice of the Peace, with any offence against this Act, the said Justice shall summon the person so charged to appear before him, at a time and place to be named in such summons, and if such person fails or neglects to appear accordingly, then (upon proof of due service of the summons upon such person, by delivering or leaving a copy thereof at his house, or usual or last place of abode, or by reading the same over to him personally,) the said Justice may either proceed to hear and determine the case ex parte, or issue his warrant for apprehending such person, and bringing him before himself, or some other Justice of the Peace having jurisdiction within the same county or municipality; and the justice before whom the person charged appears or is brought, shall proceed to hear and determine the case, or the said justice, on view of the offence, may verbally order, or if on the complaint of a third party, then may, in writing, order the offender to be at once committed (although it be on the Lord's Day) to the common gaol of the place, or into other safe custody, there to remain until the morrow, or some other day, according to circumstances, until the case be heard and disposed of. 8 V. c. 45, s. 4.

10. The justice before whom any person is convicted of any offence against this Act, may cause the conviction to be drawn up in the following form, or in other form of words to the same effect, as the case may require, that is to say: 8 V. c. 45, s. 5.

(the penalty) shall be paid as follows, that is to say; one moiety thereof to the party charging the offence, and the other moiety to the Treasurer of the County, (naming the one in which the offence was committed, or Chamberlain, of the said city, as the case may be) to be by him applied according to the provisions of the Act, (insert the title of this Act).

Given under my hand and seal, the day and year first above mentioned.

C.D., J.P. (L.S.)

11. A conviction under this Act shall not be quashed for want of form; nor shall any Warrant of Commitment be held void by reason of any defect therein, if it be therein alleged that the party has been convicted, and there be a good and valid conviction to sustain the commitment. 8 V. c. 45, s. 6.

12. In default of payment of any fine imposed under this Act, together with the costs attending the same, within the period by the Justice of the Peace before whom such conviction takes place, specified for the payment thereof at the time of conviction, such Justice of the Peace (if he deems it expedient so to do) may issue his Warrant directed to any Constable to levy the amount of such fine and costs within a certain time, to be in the said Warrant expressed; and in case no distress sufficient to satisfy the amount be found, he may commit the offender to the common gaol of the county wherein the offence was committed, for any term not exceeding three months, unless the fine and costs be sooner paid. 8 V. c. 45, s. 7.

13. The prosecution for any offence punishable under this Act, must be commenced within one month after the commission of the offence, and not afterwards; and the evidence of any inhabitant of the county or municipality in which the offence has been committed, shall be admitted and receivable, notwithstanding the fine incurred by the offence may be payable for the benefit of such municipality; but the party who makes the charge in writing before the Justice, shall not be admitted as a witness in the case. 8 V. c. 45, s. 8.
